AGENDA TITLE:

Discussion and Recommendation to the Town Council re Amendments to the Planning Commission Rules.

BACKGROUND:

Recently the Council determined that some changes to the Rules of Procedure for the Planning Commission, Board of Adjustment, Hillside Building Committee (which has no adopted rules of procedure), and Council should be explored. A Town Manager working group was organized to discuss some potential solutions to some of the problems that the Council had identified. The working group consisted of the Town Manager, Town Attorney, Vice-Mayor Bien-Willner (who is the Council liaison to the Commission) and Council Member Scott Moore (a former Board of Adjustment and Commission Member). The working group identified four problem areas where some changes to the rules for the aforementioned public bodies would be useful: 1) late submittal of materials by applicants or residents/general public; 2) surprise submittals of documents or electronic materials on the night of a meeting; 3) lack of clarity on allotted speaking times for "spokespersons" for residents or neighborhood groups; and 4) clarity on timing requirements and agenda setting for motions to reconsider a motion or action from the prior meeting.

The working group discussed changes that could be implemented in each of these areas that would help staff, residents/general public, applicants, and the public bodies maintain greater transparency and openness as well as providing for a more rigorous and thorough review of submitted materials by the Town staff. Of particular concern was making sure that all parties have sufficient time to review materials submitted for public review prior to scheduled hearings or meetings. Based on the input of the working group the Town Manager and Town Attorney have now prepared some changes to the existing Commission Rules that should be reviewed by the Commission. Staff desires to have the Commission provide comments on these proposed changes, as well as any other changes that the Commission believes are in order, so that the Council can receive those comments and have a coordinated approach to the Rules of Procedure for the Council, Planning Commission, Board of Adjustment, and Hillside Building Committee.

Current Code Provisions Regarding Commission Rules:

The Town Code (Section 2-5-2(C)) provides that the Planning Commission has the power to “make and publish rules and regulations to govern its proceedings.” The “rules” are to be “filed in the office of the Commission and the... Town Clerk.”

Section 2-5-2      Planning Commission

C.    Planning Commission Rules, Regulations, and Records. The Commission shall have power to make and publish rules and regulations to govern its proceedings and to carry into effect the provisions of this section. The Commission shall keep minutes of its proceedings, showing the vote of each member upon every question, or if absent or failing to vote, indicating that fact, and shall also keep records of its examinations and other official actions. Every rule, regulation, or every amendment or repeal thereof, and every order, requirement, decision, or determination of the Commission shall immediately be filed in the office of the Commission and in the office of the Town Clerk and shall be a public record.

If changes to the Commission Rules are to be made, then those changes should be adopted at a public meeting after discussion and input from the public. It is also recommended that proposed changes be sent to the Town Council for its input prior to the adoption of such changes.

The current “Planning Commission Rules & Regulations” were last modified in 2008, under then-chair Dolf Strom (copy attached).

Issues Identified and Potential Solutions

1.    Late submittal of materials by applicants or residents/general public:

Council Members had observed that all too often applicants have been submitting materials for inclusion in the agenda packets at the last minute (that is, just in time for the staff to place them in the agenda packet), or even on the night of a public meeting. The practice of staff only receiving an applicant’s written and electronic materials “at the last minute” (or even later) does not allow the staff to have adequate time to review the materials and comment or respond to them prior to having to prepare and distribute the agenda packet. The working group felt that a hard deadline should be instituted; with repercussions should an applicant not meet the required deadline for submitting materials. On the other hand, since residents/general public comments (typically emails) are responding to materials submitted in the agenda packet, residents/general public comments should have a later “cut-off” time, such as 24 hours prior to the posted public meeting time.

Potential Solutions

The working group suggested that applicants should be required to submit their materials (including electronic materials such as a PowerPoint presentation that the applicant would like to use at the public meeting) at least five (5) days prior to the date that the staff has designated as the date that the agenda packets will be distributed to the Commission. Materials submitted after the “cut-off” date and time would not be distributed to the Commission and would not be considered at the public meeting or hearing on the applicant’s matter. If the applicant felt that the consideration of materials submitted after the cut-off date and time absolutely needed to be placed before the Commission, then the applicants’ meeting or public hearing would then need to be continued and the applicant would have to pay the costs of re-advertising, re-noticing, and/or re-posting a public hearing. Applicant “hand-outs” of materials at the public meeting would not be permitted unless the hand-out is a copy of materials that were already submitted prior to the cut-off time. Similarly, any electronic materials, PowerPoint presentations included, cannot have new or updated slides or graphics.

The working group suggested that submittals or written statements by residents/general public should have to be submitted at least 24 hours prior to the posted public meeting time in order for the staff to be able to assemble and distribute them to the Commission prior to the meeting time. If a resident or member of the general public cannot make a meeting time and has a late submittal, that material may be given to another member of the public who can “present” that material at the public meeting. Because the material would be handed out at the meeting, the member of the public should also be required to have at least ten (10) copies of the material available for distribution (one for each Commission Member, and one copy for the staff, the applicant, and the minutes-taker). Similarly, the residents/general public present at the meeting may also submit their own written comments at the public meeting, provided that they have at least (10) copies available to distribute.

PowerPoint presentations by residents/general public present unique problems due to the need to load such electronic materials on to the Town computer system and the concomitant shortened public comment times typically allotted to the general public. Thus, the working group suggested that PowerPoint presentations by the general public should not be permitted; provided, however, a member of the general public may hand-out a printed copy of the PowerPoint “slides” that such member of the public desires to present, again requiring at least ten (10) copies of the PowerPoint “slides” submitted for distribution.

2. Surprise submittals of documents or electronic materials on the night of a meeting:

As noted above, the submittal of documents by an applicant on the night of the meeting are problematic and should not be permitted. The current Commission Rules (Section V.E.) provide that:

“Any person may submit written comments to the Commission. Such comments will be provided to the members of the Commission, at their homes or offices, if they are delivered to the Planning Department at least 48 hours before the meeting to which they relate; otherwise they will be distributed at the meeting.” (Emphasis added)

Potential Solutions

Because the current rules do not differentiate between applicants and the general public (instead the Commission Rule refers to “Any person”), the working group suggested that this rule should be modified to disallow late submittals by applicants and instead provide for a 24-hour cut-off for written comments from the general public. If a member of the public does have a written comment to submit after the 24-hour cut-off period, then that member of the public should have to submit 10 copies of the written material, for the reasons noted above. Additionally, the Commission Rules should be modified so that it is not the “Planning” Department, but instead the Community Development Department that distributes the comments. The Rules should also be changed so that the comments can be sent to the Commissioners by email.

3. Lack of clarity on allotted speaking times for “spokespersons” for residents or neighborhood groups:

When contentious applications have been heard in the past, neighborhood groups have often organized and selected a spokesperson (and sometimes an attorney hired by the neighborhood group) to speak on behalf of numerous individual residents. The current Commission Rules do not address the length of time that a designated spokesperson for a larger group of residents or members of the public has to speak. The Commission Rules also do not set the amount of time that an applicant is allotted to state their case during public hearings. In comparison, the Town Council Rules of Procedure allot fifteen minutes to an applicant at a public hearing, but also do not set time periods for a “spokesperson.”

Potential Solutions

The working group suggested that there be some consistency between the public hearing processes of the Commission and the Council. This would aide applicants and the public on what to expect during the entire public hearing process for applications such as major and intermediate SUP amendments. When a “spokesperson” is identified, both sets of rules should have a specified time set aside for a spokesperson. Although the current Commission Rules would provide that the Chair “may impose reasonable time limits upon the oral statements of any persons wishing to address the Commission” (see Section V.E.) this does not guarantee consistent treatment of spokespersons. Additionally, to the members of the group that have designated a spokesperson, it seems inconsistent to allot 15 minutes or more to an applicant, but to have a much lesser time (sometimes as little as 3 minutes) allotted to a spokesperson who is presenting for a potentially large neighborhood group. Thus, the working group recommended that when a spokesperson for an identified group of residents (such as a HOA officer or an attorney) desires to speak on behalf of that group, a larger amount of time should be allotted, but not in excess of fifteen minutes unless the chair finds that there are particularly detailed and difficult matters involved in the case before the Commission so as to justify additional time for the designated spokesperson.

One additional requirement suggested by the working group was that when a neighborhood group brings forward a spokesperson the members of that group should be required to be present at the meeting. This requirement would then allow for the chair to be able to gauge how many residents a spokesperson represents and that the spokesperson will actually be speaking for a larger group, not just on behalf of one or two people. The chair can then also advise the members of that group that if they choose to speak individually they should limit their time and avoid any repetition of matters already addressed by the neighborhood spokesperson.

4. Clarity on timing requirements for motions to reconsider a motion or action:

The current Commission Rules do not mention how a motion to reconsider should be handled, thus Robert's Rules of Order would be the default process for handling such motions. However, the Council Rules do mention motions to reconsider and provide that a motion to reconsider any action of the Council can only be made "on the day that the action was taken or at the next regular meeting of the Council." Because of the open meeting law requirements, the Council has also been required to have any member who desires to make a motion to reconsider "at the next regular meeting" first request that the Town Clerk place on the agenda the action item from the prior meeting showing that such member requested that it be placed on the agenda for the purposes of being able to move to reconsider the motion approved at the prior Council meeting.

Potential Solutions

The working group suggested that the Council should make a formal change to its rules sometime in the future to have the "agenda request" requirement placed in the Council Rules. The working group also felt that the Commission should have a place in its rules for a motion to reconsider, with an approach similar to what is contained in the Council's Rules, including having a time limit for when a member who voted in the majority must request that the matter be placed on the next business meeting agenda. The Commission should discuss what that time limit should be.
